

THE NEW GOVERNMENT.

Some say it did not hit the earth,
 My fellow Americans, it did not.
 For every man who died, it was not sound-
 It should be good for all around.
 If every one in places you'll see,
 It is impossible.
 No opposition with intent,
 Where there is the argument.
 An argument it gives the chance,
 For progress there is it advance,
 Progress means the change of things,
 It has always strive to lead the van.
 Shall we progress? We can but hope,
 The Government has no other hope.
 We must have good match, the said they say,
 Such promises are not since the food.
 Than let your promises be true,
 Great things can be done with you,
 You in again without a doubt,
 But come to the care with you are about.
 So all the good you're going to do,
 This wanted quick, why this you know
 Would be the mind in the world,
 Work for the Britons, grant the want.
 The forgoer he should not reap,
 All benefits, a mighty heap,
 All right and mind in the toll,
 All the good in the world.

For England's word, on
You want money, money, certain so,
Your voters, and they want some too
They get it in an honest way,
If work you'll find and let it stay.

A government of course we must,
And give the one to gain the trust,
To stand for England firm and true,
Excuse the question, is it you?

Now is the chance for England's fame,
To elevate its own good name,
It's not a trade to make and then,
Till England be for Englishmen.

No work, no wages, is the cry,
For minus money few can buy,
If the free trade's to be the cry,
"Tariff reform" it is the thing.

Tax all the foreigners, why should he Bring or go his goods for ever free,
Pleasant for him, he cannot see,
That he laughs with his steers.

Such incidents as here we have, are greatly to be commended. We pray that such will be the rule, and that all men will be able to say: "God Father! Thine will be done!"

THAT WEAKENING NIGHT DOUGH.
STOPPED WITHOUT HARMFUL DRUGS.

Those whose chests are torn and hacked by a dreadful cough, which is the worst in the night-time will find in Pepp's relief and soothing lung sweetener. The unique qualities of Pepp likewise appeal to those whose throats are inflamed and who are unable to bear the painful and prolonged coughing often falls to diolodge.

Remove the preserving silver wrapper from the throat lozenge, and let the tablet dissolve slowly on the tongue. Wonderful easing comes at once pass through the throat and down the breathing tubes into the lungs. Inflammation is relieved, the cough is lessened, the chest and troublesome mucous and phlegm easily

Pep's great excess is based upon their freedom from harmful drugs, their unadulterative and soothing powers, unique, lavigating, germicidal, and to the breath-altering effect, the "hard" the more tabular, as the result of which the deep-lined lung troubles are quickly reached.

It is a striking tribute to the true medicinal value of the Pep treatment that even in the most advanced cases Pep has banished old-age coughs, and the bronchitis has been cured. It has become brittle and have lost their elasticity through many decades of chronic inflammation. Pepe have conquered the incessant irritation, eased the cough, and brought back restful nights and a new day. With the aid of the remedy by the bedside, the fear of a restless night from coughing is banished.

Six-year-old Ray's teacher was endeavoring to give some very simple instructions in fractions. She asked, "If Jane has six eggs and sells half them to her brother, how many eggs will she have left?" Quickly came the answer, "The shells!"

Mamma: "Yes, dear, the angels can hear everything; they heard your prayers last night."

Ella: "That's funny. I didn't say them."

"You have a new little brother and sister to play with, Willie." "Well, let's keep the brother, but couldn't you change the sister for a train?"

"I will tell it to me, not you," she replied, and the soldiers left her past, thinking she might have been a spy.

The General was at dinner with some friends when little Anne dashed into the room.

"My cow, my cow," she wailed. "Cornwallis."

"Your soldiers have taken away my cow, and I have come to get her. Please, sir, you must let me have her."

The General looked kindly at her. "And who is your little girl?" he said. Anne told him who she was and where she lived and all about her cow. "I have never seen a cow like yours," she always been my cow, Lord Cornwallis."

He said, tearfully, "She don't belong to you. You should have your cow."

The General rose. "Come here, Anna. I promise your cow shall be safe home to-morrow."

"And here," he said, unfastening a pair of silver buttons, "I will keep them for you. I will give me by, if the soldiers trouble your cow again come tonight to me about it." The General kept his word.

very good horse. He noticed that the driver the post was cruel to his horse. Knowing all Russian peasants are so utterly ignorant and superstitious, his resolve to punish this driver in "what way would best improve him." The next he happened the driver began to yell at the poor beast most abusively, when, lo and behold!
the animal seemed to open its mouth and utter a man of clearer intellect. "The driver and I was marvellous. The driver went down on his knees before the horse, begged pardon, and promised to treat it better in future.

SOMETHING FOR YOUNG FOLKS

THE REASON.

"Who served Stephen?" asked the teacher.

"The Jews," was the answer. "Where?"

“Beyond the limits of the city.” “Now to the city,” he looked him “beyond the limits of the city.” But this question was not to be asked and no one knew. At last a tiny little man ventured to put up his hand and said: “I suppose it was to get a fair thing at him.”

A TEMPTING SIGHT.

When Thomas placed a rosy apple by the garden gate, and then hid himself behind the hedge, he thought he had done so unobserved. But he was mistaken.

An old gentleman approached him, and began to lecture.

"Well," said Thomas, "that's what I was hoping to do."

"Why?" inquired the old man.

"Why," repeated Thomas. "Because I've hollowed out the inside and filled it with mustard!"

DUKE WHO WAS A "MUFF."

Before King William IV. began to reign over England he was called the Duke of Clarence and as he often said:

The butcher's boy stopped his pony and said: "Nice pony that of yours, old gentleman." The Duke of Clarence smiled at the boy and replied: "Yes."

The butcher's boy then said, "Mine's a good'un, too. I'll bet you a pot of ginger-beer, old man. You don't trot to Hampton Court quick as I can."

know at this, for he saw that the boy did not know him, and he said, "Oh! I could not do that, my boy!"

So the butcher's boy began to palliate away, but before he had gone far he looked back at the Duke of Clarence and cried out, "I know you was only a snuff!" When the Duke of Clarence got back home he told the story of his droll adventure to his friends, and they all laughed for some long time.

But I wonder what the butcher's boy would have said if he had been told that the old gentleman he had called a "snuff" was really a Duke!

THE BEAUTIFUL PRINCESS.
Once upon a time there was a wonderful garden, where every kind of tree and shrub grew. Some grew so tall that it was bright with colour all the year round. The gardener who took care of the garden was young and happy, and sang so sweetly as he worked that the hummingbirds would pause. One day a beautiful princess happened to wander among the flowers, and listened to the birds, and the gardener gathered his most fragrant flowers for her, until her hands were full. When she came to the roses she threw down the leaves carelessly, for one pink rose-leaf

"Not yet, Pancho," the gardener replied. "I must be in too great a hurry, and he knew it must have time to grow properly." But come and see the lilies, they are de-scented!"

"Only one has already reached," laughed the Prince, and so looking around.

"Not yet, Pancho," and so looking at an only tank of that now. I will look at the lilies presently, when it has faded."

The gardener sighed; he loved all the flowers, and wanted his Prince to care for them too.

"Come and see the heartiness and the forgetfulness," said the gardener, "the dew sits on them."

The wifful Princess shook her head.

"I have not time," she said, "I am watching my rosbud. It opens so slowly that I am getting weary."

The days went by, and still the pink rosbud did not open. The Princess wandered, and was very unhappy, and though the garden was gay with flowers of all kinds and colours and the sun shone every day she did not notice them.

At last everything must come to an end.

"There are many more roses left," he said, and more beautiful colours. Come and see them."

But the Princess buried her face in her hands

"There are others just as lovely," said the gardener, "forget that one, and be happy."
"The others may be lovely, but that was the one I loved," said the Princess, sadly. "I will have no other."
The beautiful Princess went away weeping, and though the gardener always watched for her

Work.—The children are in very good order, and the school is making on the whole satisfactory progress. In arithmetic there are weaknesses, the methods employed in the lower parts are somewhat mechanical. The recitations were well given and understood, and the reading (except Standard III, where more fluency and understanding should have been shown) was reference from the Board. It appeared that Miss Black receiving the maximum salary agreed as relief matter, but she had been unable to obtain the higher remuneration as a foster mother as might have been expected, though not having had any special training.

The Guardians were recommended to increase the salary of Miss Black from £20 to £22 per annum, and the Board agreed to do so.
It was agreed that it be referred to the Contract Committee to consider and decide as regards both Workhouse and Home what use the use of new potatoes could be made.

The minutes were approved.

The Master reported the relief of 107 regents during the fortnight against 122 for the same period year ago.
The Chairman, Vice-Chairman, and Mr.
Green, were appointed representatives to the Yorkshire Poor Law Conference to be held at Salisbury on July 8th and 9th.

A letter had been received from Mr. Woodcock, who had been of the Bramham Court, where the Committee and Board of Directors had received from Mr. J. Farrer and Miss Leverock, of Oulton, an invitation to take on with them at Oulton on the 1st and 2nd of August, and to stay at the Bramham drive if wished to stay at the Bramham.
This invitation was also extended to members of the Board of Union officials was very graciously accepted.

BENEFIT CONCERT AT ROTHWELL.

THE RECENT PIT DISASTERS.

Promoted by a Committee of which Mr. R.
McClough was chairman. Mr. J. T. Kilburn treasurer, and Mr. W. Linn secretary, a concert was given at the Leeds and Leeds Theatrical Hall (kindly lent by Mr. W.
Brown), in aid of the sufferers through the Whitwell and Oulton colliery disasters.
The weather was delightfully fine. It being an ideal summer day, and there was a goodly company present in the afternoon. The entertainment provided, though such an object of view and knowing the preponderant position of residents in the district who are daily engaged in and around the local mines we must confess that we anticipated a far larger crowd.

The proceedings were conducted by Mr. W.
Hargreaves, C.O., who during his address said he never intended to support any cause but glad to which they had just listened—"Comrades in Arms." He proposed leaving the more sympathetic part of the appeal they were making to subsequent speakers, and to offer a few words on one or two mining questions which could not be of interest to the assembly.

He then said that he had been asked by him that they had to depend upon such great calamities as that at Whitwell and Oulton, the great question of coal dust, and other industries of the collieries, and the bitterest experiences which were their present loss and how to effect successful combat.
The question of local bad ventilation was one that underlaid the disaster at Whitwell disaster—consumption. It was thought at one time that the miners were kept in closed rooms, but when the scourge became so widespread and the medical men made a thorough study of it, they found that the cause of the trouble lay in the fact that two great difficulties—fresh air and ventilation.

PLEASURE

Nearly everyone writes, but how few with pleasure. Copying notes and sticky ink one people as a matter of course on a holiday, and how often does the home sub scratch and mangle?

Gold Pens, tipped with iridium, cannot scratch; they are made with points of varying width to suit the hand and other popular patterns; and they glide over the paper in a way that is simply marvellous.

Fountain pens keep ink fresh and fluid, and always at hand.

A Fountain Pen being a combination of gold and fountain holder, is therefore the ideal writing instrument.

The ideal Fountain Pens are made by CURTIS, LLOYD, and MACROREOR, LTD.

A LIVELY MEETING. MEMBERS MAKE STRONG REMARKS. MR. LUNN AND MR. G. ARMISTEAD QUARREL AGAIN.

A meeting of the above Council was held on Monday evening last, at the offices of the Council, being in attendance Mr. S. B. Chadwick (chairman), Mr. Armistead, Messrs. John Dobson, William Linn, James Widdows, James W. Vellans, J. B. Gordon, William Abbisley, George W. Blakely, John Hirst, James Armistead, Ed Dobson, the new member Mr. T. F. Wade, with the clerk (Mr. W. Dodgson), medical officer (Dr. Stevenson), surveyor (Mr. Southward), and sanitary inspector (Mr. Moorhouse).

At a meeting of the Highways Committee held Oct. 12th, there were present, Messrs W. Abbisley (chairman), John Dobson, Chadwick, Armistead, and Linn. Resolved, that the Surveyor prepare estimates for flagging and kerbing in Oulton Lane from the gate of Chatham House to Springfield, 2380 ft. Resolved, that the Surveyor prepare estimates for Private Street Works in Prospect Street and Perseverance Street were opened as follows:—Hannam & Co. 2353 ft. 4 in.; David Speight 2380 ft. 4 in.; David Speight & Son 2315 ft. 11 in.; John Robinson 2385 ft. 4 in.; Dalton and Higgins 2385 ft. 9 in.

Resolved, that Messrs David Speight & Sons have the contract. That the flagging in Butcher Lane be continued from the Commercial Street and to the Chapel gateway. That the steam roller be sent in for repairs as soon as the Surveyor can arrange for same.

That the recent scheme prepared by the Surveyor and market committee for the improvement of Ball Hill be approved, giving a width of 60 feet in the cutting.

taking off the maximum amount of rock on the west side of the old opposite and immediately below the entrance at the top of the cutting and then swinging over on to the eastern side. And that the scheme be forwarded to the Road Board with an application for a grant for the whole amount.

That the Clerk obtain copy of an agreement from Messrs Dobb & Co. for the next morning. That the question of purchasing land for the improvement of Churchfield be brought before the Council.

That formal notice be served by the Surveyor on the owners adjoining the Rothwell back from below the mill dam through the town to clean out the same and that reasonable time limit be given on the notice.

Mr. Abbisley, in proposing the minutes for confirmation, said they had done the flagging of the portion of Butcher Lane to the chapel, and now intended to do the lower portion. In regard to the Ball Hill scheme, Mr. Carpenter, the County Surveyor, suggested a portion being taken off the west side of the road.

As to the question of the purchase of land in Churchfield, they were in the same predicament as they were in the case of the improvement of the road, and would let us have the land at the price it gave for it.

Mr. Linn seconded. Mr. Armistead, after the Clerk had read the correspondence between Mr. G. Armistead and the Council of St. Churchfield Improvement, wanted to know if the inference drawn by Mr. Abbisley was a fair one. Mr. Abbisley said that at the last meeting of the Highways Committee the position Mr. Armistead was taking was in reference to the matter was a discreditable one, but he (Mr. Armistead) maintained the position he had taken up had been a proper one. He appealed to the Clerk, who said the course he had adopted was perfectly in order. He accepted the Clerk's statement as to his position. As a matter of fact the Highways Committee was in a position to buy the land for a reasonable price, it was reasonable price for the Council was in a position to buy. Six months ago he was told the only obstacle was the absence of the Highways Committee, when he withdrew he was charged with cowardice. He did not think it fair for members to make these remarks when they knew they were not purchasing the land. He did not think people who knew him would bring any such charge of cowardice against him.

Mr. Linn said in regard to this business he had had a surprise. He did not for a moment admit that he asked Mr. G. Armistead to retire from the Committee. He felt at that time in his mind that the meeting was not as free as it might have been on that particular question. He was bound to admit since that time they had not got on as well as they might have expected in regard to the improvement in Churchfield. They had had a man who was always pushing his own interests; he did not remember the charge of cowardice, but he did not think Mr. G. Armistead was unbecomingly. He said he had said at what it cost him and now he was prepared to sell at a reasonable price. He had told the Committee that he would be no stumbling block to the improvement. He (the Highways Committee) was not so. The Highways Committee had had a dispute with Mr. Linn as to see them with regard to the improvement, but since then he had been given to understand that Mr. Armistead had given instructions to Mr. Wright, who was sitting on the Committee. He did not want until last Wednesday night that Mr. G. Armistead had anything to do with this business.

a wrong impression, the West Riding officials did not recommend this scheme, but it was submitted to them. He did not think Mr. Lunn was correct in his statement. He was perfectly plan and ask Mr. Brown and the County Council to agree to meet them at Stourton, and that the Education Committee should consider the possibility of assisting in providing bathing for the children at Stourton.

The Clerk said that six or eight months ago they organized a school at Stourton. The school was held in a room at Wood Lane Infants

An application for an increase of salary by Mr. Hargreaves, of the Rothwell Wesleyan School was received. The present salary is £185.

Mr. Hargreaves said that average work of the school is about 100 per cent. (as the average of the 100 per cent.) appeared, was in part repeated on Saturday evening last.
As in the previous case the object was to raise the salary of the schoolmaster (as the beneficiaries being the Rothwell Wesleyan Methodist Society. A large number of members themselves of the opportunity of witnessing for the first time this extraordinary display.

The Primitive School-room was almost an ideal room for the production of the entertainment, contrivances which were in existence and which were improvised resulting to a skillful consummation of the opera "Ole-della" at home. With that charming character of the character of "Ole-della," Miss Martha Ward ably sustained the role of principal, and was ably assisted by the other members and a chorus twenty or thirty strong.

The miscellaneous items were sufficiently altered to make them fresh to those who had patronized the effort before. Two new items completely captivated the audience.
Miss Verity Bicker in a song entitled "Flora McDonald," effectively represented an old woman. The audience was so captivated that the aged person was altogether a myth when she commenced her solo, and increasing in confidence her voice gained in strength and command, the manner being so skillful to encourage the belief that before long Carlotta will be able to sing a really clever song.
A duet by Miss Edith Newton and Arthur Ashby, being a duet, was also a duet, and received much applause. Arthur Ashby was the principal of the occasion, and outshone
the other performers in various items.
The audience was so captivated by the quality of the music, and with that confidence and self-possession, which are indispensable contributors to a successful performance, he gave a good deal of time to his solo, and also a considerable amount of money in the course which he has at heart. He is an experienced singer, and has been a member of the Rothwell Wesleyan School, and also a member of the Rothwell Wesleyan School, and also a member of the Rothwell Wesleyan School.

Several questions were asked the lecturer,
and were answered very satisfactorily.
In an anticlimax speech, Mr. W. Stephenson moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Ogden, Mr.
Wormald and the lecturer for their services.
Mr. J. Hargreaves, seconded, and the Rev. Evan Lloyd supported, the motion was carried with acclamation.

ROTHWELL EDUCATION COMMITTEE.

The monthly meeting of the Rothwell District Education Board Committee was held on Friday night at the Carlton Lane School in Rothwell, there being present, Mr. J. Butcher (chairman) presiding, Messrs Wm. Lunn, R. Chatterley, J. W. Vellans, John Horner,
John W. Biddard, John Hirst, John Dobson, and Walton, with the clerk (Mr. Angus).

The Chairman said that for October were submitted, and showed that the average attendance for all the schools in the district was 91.39 per cent. As the various schools the percentages were as follows:—Rothwell Council, mixed, 94.05 (infants over 5) 95.55, (under 5) 89.65; Stourton, mixed, 90.92,
(under 5) 85.50, (over 5) 90.25; Robin
Hood, mixed, 95.38, (infants over 5) 94.95, (under 5) 94.44; Oulton, mixed, 95.55, (infants over 5) 92.40, (under 5) 82.14; Thorpe
School, mixed, 95.80, (infants over 5) 96.77, (under 5) 86.20; Rothwell Wood Lane, infants (over 5) 97.14, (under 5) 96.96; Rothwell
National, mixed, 92.48, (under 5) 92.23,
(over 5) 92.12; Louthouse National, mixed, 92.51, (infants over 5) 80.95, (under 5) 58.32;
Middleton, mixed, 96.72, (infants over 5) 90.69, (under 5) 83.38. The attendance at Stourton Infant school had been affected by whooping cough, and at Louthouse by measles.

The attendance at the month was by Rothwell Wood Lane Infant school for the second time in the month.

The Clerk stated that the attendance in the Rothwell district were the highest in the West Riding during the past month.

The Chairman said that the Committee permission was given to Mrs. Armitage to hold Band of Hope meetings in the Thorpe School on alternate Fridays, and the Clerk now read a communication from Mrs. Armitage, stating that she would like the use of a class room on some other day.

The Committee considered whether it would interfere with the existing classes, and eventually it was moved that the matter be left with the Clerk and Mr. Jos. Horner.

The Clerk said the Committee should settle the matter.

Mr. Lunn said he objected to officials giving opinions and he objected to the Clerk disattending to the Committee.

The Chairman said the Clerk wished to state the facts and he was entitled to do so. He would have to hear him out patiently, and if they did not agree with him they could say so.

The Clerk said he would rather not say anything more.

Mr. Chatterley again said that the matter be left with the Clerk and Mr. Horner and this was agreed to.

Mr. Lunn said facilities should be given for the instruction of the children in matters which would help them to make better citizens. They should endeavor to put aside small-business.

The Chairman said all the members of the Committee would agree with Mr. Lunn. (Hear Hear.) They should say, however, that the evening classes had been arranged, should not be interfered with.

An application was received from Mr. Harry White, head master of the Thorpe School, for an increase of salary, which is at present £185 per annum, and the matter was left over for a month.

The Clerk stated that the head teacher of Middleton School had informed him that certain of the pupils were not attending school, and one pupil had been reserved for use in the school garden. The Clerk said he replied saying that if the managers wished gardening to be taught the Committee would supply tools, &c.

It was decided to have cookery lessons given at Middleton.

With regard to the headmaster of Carlton School, the Clerk read a communication from the County Council stating that owing to the large increase in numbers at Rugborough Secondary School it was not possible to receive Mr. Dobson at Carlton.

Mr. Chatterley said that was not satisfactory.

The overwork at Carlton School was also considered. The Committee members who had had the matter under consideration decided that the parents of children living in Leeds Lane should be requested to transfer the children to the Rothwell School.

The School in order to relieve the pressure on the accommodation at Carlton.

Mr. Biddard said he had seen the parents as requested, and had come to the conclusion that they were not at all agreeable to the suggestion. Some of them were willing to send their children to Rothwell if the Committee decided that they should go.

The Robin Hood school was not nearly full,
and the attendance had gone down since the new infant school was built.

The Chairman said the children from Leeds Lane could go to Robin Hood if their parents wished it.

John Dobson said the best way out of the difficulty was to build a new class room at Carlton.

Mr. Chatterley said it was only a piece of sentimentalism in parents not wanting their children to go to Rothwell School. The distance from Leeds Lane was about the same as to Carlton School.

He said first, they must not overlook the right of the parents. He admitted the loyalty of the people desiring that the children should not leave Carlton School.

Tenders for the repair and renovations necessary at the Carlton School were considered, and that of Messrs. Carlisle and Sons, of Carlton, amounting to £24 2s 6d was accepted.

When the labor certificates were being gone through, Mr. Chatterley said that at Gar-forth, the Chairman of the Committee had given permission to grant leave of absence to a teacher instead of having their standing over for the next monthly meeting.

The Clerk said some time ago the Committee gave leave of absence to a teacher, and the certificates were confirmed by the Committee.

One or two cases of mentally defective children were mentioned, and Mr. Chatterley moved that the County Council be requested to consider the provision of a school for such children.

Mr. Lunn seconded and it was agreed to.

Reference was made to the well-known new school at Stourton, and it was decided, on the motion of Mr. Vellans, that the new premises should be used as an infant department, and not for a boys' school as originally proposed.

It was reported that each member had been supplied with a folder from the County Council, and the Clerk read the reports of members of district sub-committees.

Mr. Chatterley: Why all this stings?
Mr. Lunn: There is nothing in it.

Mr. Chatterley said he did not think anything was suggested, which was not already done.

Mr. Vellans: I think this is a model committee.

The Chairman: There is nothing in this circular that troubles this committee.

Nothing was done in the matter.

In accordance with the report Mr. Lunn raised the question of Temperance teaching in elementary schools. The Board of Education had issued a syllabus for Temperance teaching, in which it stated that the subject should be taught by ordinary teachers in the ordinary lessons given upon hygiene, and which should be specified on the time table. The County Council advised the local authorities to be more liberal in dealing with the matter, and the Board of Education said there should be a minimum of three lessons per year. He moved that the subject be given in all schools in the district.

Mr. Walton seconded.

Mr. Biddard said that, generally speaking, the teachers in the district were looking upon the subject very favorably. Some people were not proper persons to teach Temperance.
The bill could not lead the blind.

Mr. Chatterley said that the County Council was not a good Temperance Union, would it not be wiser, he asked, to group the classes for one teacher.

Mr. Biddard said it was a dangerous question, and possibly such suggestions might cause offence.

Mr. Vellans said that if the work were left to the headmaster they would see that proper teachers took the subject.

The motion was carried unanimously.

Mr. Lunn moved that the Clerk call the attention of the members to the importance of the children leaving school wearing the clothes they went to school in. It was a common sight to see children going home with their coats over their arms, and sometimes clothes were lost. On one occasion he went into the Rothwell Council School and certain children were standing outside in the rain, and he told the head teacher he would have put the children's heads up the chimney. (Laughter.)

The Chairman seconded, and it was carried.

The Clerk stated that the attendance of the Committee to a practice which was prevalent at some schools of retailing caps and other kind of clothing. He was interested in the case, and he did not wish to see it in the School. He knew of one headmaster who had been approached by a firm asking him to take up the matter.

Mr. Chatterley said it was distinctly bad.

The Clerk said a circular had been sent to every school in the Riding with the purpose of forbidding teachers to take part in such trade.

Mr. Horner said caps had been sold at Thorpe. Travellers from all parts had been seen in the school, and the headmaster had taken action, and sold the violins at 10s each.

The Clerk said he would be glad to hear of such cases in the future.

The Clerk said travellers had no right in schools.

THE OULTON PIT-BENKING
ACCIDENT.

At the Midland Hotel, Woodliff, on Monday afternoon, Mr. E. P. Matfield, West Riding, presided at a meeting of the body of Patrick Joseph Berne (24), a pit sticker, who was killed in the No. 1 shaft at Water High Collieries, Oulton, early on Saturday night, owing to the collapse of the sides of the shaft.

Berne's body had lain on the edge of the scaffolding some 150 yards below the surface, but the safety of the workmen demanded that the sides of the shaft should be securely repaired before any attempt was made to remove the body. It was found possible on Saturday night to bring the body to the surface.

There were also present—Mr. W. H. Pickering, chief inspector of mines for Yorkshire;
Mr. Walter Hargrave and Mr. Isaac Higgins, representing Messrs. Henry Briggs & Co., and Mr. J. Hirst (for Major Outley); Mr. A. C. Oatmiller, of the County Council; and Mr. E. F. Harn, of Leeds, represented two of the injured men—Patrick O'Hillford and James Thain.

The Coroner expressed his sincere sympathy with the relatives of the dead man and of the three injured men, who were at present lying in Leeds General Infirmary. He was convinced that they would be recalled there again within six months to inquire into another accident of the same kind. He also expressed sympathy with Messrs. Briggs and Co., who were at present endeavoring to ascertain whether the lesson of this tragedy should be a warning to the mining industry.
